ON THE COVER

Fergus #4574 ~ Fergus came to us as a reactive, unsure, nervous boy who was so sweet, wanting to please his people. We certainly had our work cut out for us as he hadn't been socialized very much with people or dogs. We worked with a trainer and soon his confidence and trust grew so much that he became an entirely different boy. Once he knew this was home and we were not going anywhere, Fergus flourished. He loves his family and absolutely loves other dogs...but cheese wins over everything! He goes on group dog hikes 2-3 times per week and is the life of the party. His dog walker says he's silly, fun, and great with the other dogs. He also loves a good mud bath (haha). At home, he is happy to snuggle as close to us as possible and likes to play with his toys.
He's such a good boy and we can't imagine life without him. Renée & Michael

LOUISE PENNY
AUTHOR

Watch
HERE!

Louise Penny, along with her beloved Golden Retrievers, Muggins and Charlie #4834, is speaking about RESPONSIBLE PET OWNERSHIP.

Responsible pet ownership involves a lifelong commitment to providing the care your pet needs to live a happy, healthy life. There are many considerations before bringing a pet into your family like choosing a pet that's suited to your home and lifestyle, getting your pet from a reputable source (not online), recognizing that owning a pet requires an investment of time and money...to name just a few.

Watch Louise's important message HERE to learn about what responsible pet ownership means.

MEET & GREET MAGGIE MAY #3362

Within a month after filling out an adoption application, we met our Maggie Mae (Farah #3362) at Toronto Pearson airport. When it was our turn and we were called up as her crate was being opened, the first thing we saw was her tail wagging. And so, our love story began. Having Maggie was a blessing in more ways than one. I was later hospitalized for five months and Maggie was a source of comfort and joy to my husband's aching heart. He would exchange silly pictures of Maggie with me and they would put a smile on my face. She even made several visits to the hospital becoming the star of the ward, loved by doctors and nurses alike. She was widely shared on social media by the nurses and I was forever known by the staff as Maggie's mommy. She is so smart and sweet, but is definitely cheeky. The scars on her face only tell part of her story and we are determined every day to turn that story into a happily ever after.

MEET & GREET ARCHIE #3130

It's pretty difficult to come up with the right words to describe what a special, amazing, wonderful boy Archie is. He is our first rescue and watching his transformation has been an utterly magical journey. I believe Archie has an inherently timid/shy personality, but when the moment is right or when he is feeling particularly comfortable, he is the silliest goof I have ever met. Despite having problems with his back legs (they don't move well ~ we suspect he was hit by a car or suffered some other traumatic injury early in life), he LOVES his walks. When he hears the jingle of his collar, he inevitably comes bounding to the door, barking, doing pirouettes, and throwing his body into the ottoman, often moving it all the way across the room. It is hilarious and he reminds me of a football player at practice pushing the dummies across the field. After these dramatic outbursts, he walks at approximately the pace of a snail but he never fails to get totally over the top excited when it is time to go. Archie loves all humans and is so kind and gentle with every animal he meets. He is still learning how to play. Sometimes he doesn't know what to do with a group of playing dogs other than to bark; however, I'm sure his bark means "I don't really know what to do but I'm so happy to be here with my pals...woo-hoo!" Everyone who meets Archie falls in love with him. He is pretty much a celebrity in our town and I could go on and on about how amazing he is.

GOLDEN HEROES

At the Golden Rescue picnic, we recognized five outstanding volunteers who we would describe as priceless change-makers and heroes. Their contributions have had a profound impact on the lives of our Golden.

JACK #587

Robyn Scott

When Robyn lost her beloved Jack #578, she was devastated. Her heart wasn't ready for another Golden so she turned to volunteering to fill the void. That was 15 years ago and Robyn has been a Golden Rescue superstar ever since. Robyn is an integral member of the transport team and she did a lot of airport arrival coordination. Her first gig was handling the paperwork for customs for our international flights. She loved that so much that she immediately recruited others to do it. She also did one transport...but the Golden puked all over the place so that was that. Some of the airport fiascos were legendary dealing with chaos, last-minute changes, and grumpy customs officials. Robyn handled it all in stride in her calm, cool, and collective manner. Robyn found her niche as the transport team's second-in-command and she does an absolutely fabulous job and has never looked back. Robyn always handles this important work calmly, patiently, and efficiently. She also arranges all the Canadian Wings of Rescue flights. Thank you, Robyn, so much for all you do ~ you are a treasure!

JO WITH JAKE #424

Jo Celentano

Jo is deservedly received the Golden Hero award because she does SO much for Golden Rescue. Her primary role is as the Foster Onboarding Team Lead and she volunteered for this huge task years ago. She assigns all the foster applications to her team members, who she trains and mentors, and keeps foster applicants moving through the process until they are approved. She also manages the foster database, which is very detailed and always current, providing a tremendous service and support to the intake team. Let's just say, if Jo can help, she's there! Jo doesn't stop with just the foster team, however, as she steps up wherever needed. For example, she was a key member of the golf tournament committee and has been a significant help with the Wishbone Lottery every year. Jo never-ever complains and she is always lovely to deal with. She is the quiet force behind the scenes and her can-do attitude is infectious. Golden Rescue is ever so grateful for her valuable contributions.

NICOLA WITH LULU #4282 & COCO

Nicola Mitchell

Nicola has been a Golden Retriever believer for over 10 years. Her first Golden, Coco, was her inspiration for getting involved. Starting off slowly, Nicola helped with the car rally and selling

Wishbone Lottery tickets but soon wanted to do more. She initially thought of joining the foster team but knew she would likely be a foster failure and realized that she just would not be able to let any of them go. However, that being said, she HAS fostered a few Golden Retrievers, particularly some with medical issues who had a long recovery road ahead of them. But she doesn't foster too often because she knows she could easily become the 'crazy dog lady'. She joined the transport team and the international airport welcome team... an experience she found exhilarating and very emotional. Then...the perfect role came along... the intake team. Intakes is the most difficult role in the organization and she is absolutely incredible at it and made for it. Nicola says that volunteering for Golden Rescue has been beyond rewarding. She is extremely compassionate, an excellent listener, and sweet. Nicola, coincidentally, was the intake person for Rosie #5000. Thank you, Nicola from all of us and Rosie thanks you too. You are a true hero in our eyes!

Lee Trempe

Lee has been a treasured supporter of Golden Rescue almost since its inception. As a member of the Board in the early years, Lee helped grow GR into what it is today. Stepping back during its growing-pain years to enable fresh blood to come in with new ideas, Lee stayed involved helping many fundraising efforts including the golf tournament and the Wishbone Lottery. Lee has fostered, done home visits and transports, and helped out at various events. She has also adopted four beautiful Golden Retrievers ~ Golden #189, Skye #416, and Kilo #1367. She is currently sharing her life with Cobi #2748. Lee's primary role is being the interface between the intake team and foster families and the intake team do not know what they would do without her help. Lee is also the editor of 'The Loop', which goes to our fosters on a quarterly basis. No one can remember a time when Lee was not involved in the organization and she brings a certain insight to the group that only years of experience can provide. Thank you, Lee, for all you have done and all you continue to do. You are amazing and we are so lucky to have had Lee at our side all these years.

Val Barker

Val has been a dog lover her whole life. When she retired, she looked for some volunteer work and her research led her to Golden Rescue...lucky us! That was about 10 years ago and since then she has been a key volunteer on our transport team. Val was also on the first ground-breaking trip to JFK to pick up 18 precious Golden Retrievers from Istanbul. That inaugural journey was the start of our international rescue mission of love and is a key part of our history. From there, Val has met countless flights and has done many, many transports...a lot in emergency situations and on short notice. She never says 'no', including schlepping crates to various locations. There's really nothing she wouldn't do if it was needed, including short-term fostering. She even drove from Oakville all the way to Ottawa to help us protest the CFIA ban. One of the things we love the most about Val is that she's not backwards about coming forwards. If there's an opportunity to improve, Val is open and forthright and has solutions-oriented ideas. The transport team would be lost without her and so would the entire organization. Her Golden Retrievers, Jax and Jesse, are by her side all the time reminding her why she does such important work. Thank you so much Val for what you do and who you are. We are beyond lucky that you are in our corner.

Good Pups Donation

Meet Olivia...a young entrepreneur from Kingsville, ON and the heart behind Good Pups ~ a brand dedicated to making healthy, homemade treats for dogs.

Good Pups began with Olivia's simple wish to create wholesome snacks for her own dogs. With her love of baking and passion for animals, she turned that idea into something special. Now, other dogs locally can enjoy her delicious, nutritious creations.

Olivia also believes in giving back to the community. She frequently hosts fundraisers in her hometown to support animal welfare organizations. Her most recent fundraiser raised $200 for Golden Rescue, and we couldn't be more grateful for her generosity and compassion.

MEET &amp; GREET

DAISY MAE #2767

Daisy Mae is a very well-behaved doll. A few years ago she had elbow surgery and she has minor arthritis building in her knees. She has a forever brother in Rupert, a Goldador, who is about three years younger. We are blessed to have Daisy Mae in our lives.

Jennifer & Harry

MEET &amp; GREET

STANLEE #3528

Stanlee turned five and, as always, we celebrated by giving him a dog-appropriate treat. This year, we let him lick the inside of the dog food bag. We have never seen a dog so happy! He is incredibly smart ~ he helps us with the recycling and he knows how to put his toys away into his toy box. He loves all his walks and learned to swim in our pool so he enjoys regular splashes in the summer. He is still over-enthusiastic in the car... even with a seatbelt it's not very safe. We hired a trainer and she refers to Stanlee as a 'loud talker with big feelings' and that is so very accurate. He's enjoying his life with unlimited stuffies to shred and we can't remember life without him.

Rose & Steve

MEET &amp; GREET

OLIVER #4231

Oliver is great! Since we adopted him, he has become more socialized with other dogs, people, and toys. He has learned how to swim and play fetch by watching other dogs fetch out of the water. He won't play fetch on land...he just associates fetch with water. He is also a welcome visitor to the nursing home for residents and staff where we volunteer. He has also been a wonderful foster brother to many dogs. We sure laugh a lot with his antics and he puts a smile on our faces every day.

Ask Goldie

Dear Goldie: Here's my group boarding experience where seven of us strangers went to a meet and greet screening. Of course, I passed with flying colours. All was good when our stay began until I heard a vacuum upstairs. I suddenly raced up the stairs (which was forbidden) to have my turn. The girl using it immediately turned it off. "No, no, please vacuum me!" After whimpering non-stop, she turned it on and I was in heaven. As a pup, I had learned that being vacuumed was the best thing ever. And, here's another surprise that made me different from my boarding buddies. At meal time, I quickly devoured all the food of the picky eaters along with my own. Lucky for me, from that moment on, I got to sleep upstairs in a bedroom with the owners. Why was my behaviour surprising to everyone? Zoomer

Dear Zoomer: Pet parents often fail to tell all of their Golden's good points, issues, unusual behaviours. Be completely honest and thorough... good or bad. Leave no stone unturned because those secrets will be revealed when least expected.

Dear Goldie: Before being adopted, Golden Rescue took me to the vet to get all checked out and NewTurd. Huh? What's that...I don't get it. I was 11 when this was done and I can honestly say that my attraction to females is still as strong as ever. Let's face it, I'm proof that you can't teach an old dog new tricks. But now when I go over to a female, she just sits down and looks the other way. Not interested...oh well. Lothario

Dear Lothario: Yes, a neutered older Golden may continue to mount female dogs because the behaviour was a learned behaviour. Besides, mounting is usually about dominance dear Lothario.

Dear Goldie: I turn 10 this month and have been with my forever family for 4.5 years. I needed a lot of work and still do, but I had a rough beginning and I can't shake off or dull some of my past. For example, I was hit a lot on the head so I used to wince when their hand came near my head. I hate any thought of being groomed and I bite my master when he tries to get matting out. At the cottage my fur attracts moss, burrs, seaweed, small sticks, and whatever I run through. My family keeps giving me little tugs on the big hunks of stuff and I show my teeth. One vet gave my master gabapentin 600 mg tablets to sedate me so I could be groomed but they did nothing. I won't allow my family to pick me up or hold me down and a muzzle is a non-starter. How can my family get my cottage trophies out of my fur? Ryla (Rider) #3541

Dear Ryla: Ask dad to get you the authentic black Horse Curry Comb that has been used on horses for centuries. It can be bought online or at a

MEET & GREET DALLAS #3057

We are happy to report that Dallas is doing well. We recently celebrated six years with her. Our family will all say, without a doubt, that Dallas (Dally as we affectionately call her) is the best thing to have happened to all of us. Even non-dog lovers love Dally. She has a gentle demeanour, loves to be cuddled (she thinks she's a lap dog), joins in on yoga, and senses when someone isn't well (either physically or emotionally) and comes to your side. She is a natural therapy dog with her calming presence. Dally loves her walks and has also been a driving force in our physical wellness. She loves the local trails but she especially loves water now. The first time she touched water, she ran right out seemingly not knowing what to do. She watched another dog playing and went in very slowly. She is a true Golden now...it's hard to get her out of any water! She is close to being perfect but she does have a strong prey drive. She's had her run-ins with a few skunks so she is now ALWAYS on leash on trail walks. It's hard to remember life without her and we are beyond grateful to GR.

horse tack shop (usually $6 - $20). In your case, you don't want the modified Dog Curry Comb styles sold at pet stores in various colours and styles. You want the original Equine Curry Comb made of rubber which has very short nubs. It is used on your back and sides in slow, circular motions. I have not met a dog yet who hasn't loved it. I hope you're not the first. Gentle circles over those hair tufts and burrs and they're gone... works like magic.

Dear Goldie: I'm one of those quickie Goldens. You know, whatever food falls on the kitchen floor is mine...no questions asked. It's a race to be first and I always win. The other day when mom was making a salad, two grapes rolled across the floor and I nailed them...ummmm tasted so good! Mom went ballistic shouting at me to drop them. She contacted our vet for further direction. Luckily, I had only devoured one. Does this mean that I can never eat another grape ever? Trigger

Dear Trigger: Yes, Trigger that's right. All grapes including seedless, green, red as well as raisins and currants, can be highly toxic and potentially result in fatal kidney failure.

BEHIND-THE-SCENES AT GOLDEN RESCUE

ADMINISTRATION ~ BOARD OF DIRECTORS, TREASURY, DATABASE & THE GR STORE

As the saying goes, home is where the heart is ~ especially when there is a Golden in it! And Golden Rescue always wants to make sure that Golden Retrievers are going to the best foster or forever home. That is why the Home Visit team is so vital in the fostering and adoption process.

Performing a home visit for a foster or forever family is just one step to ensure we have made the right choice. One of the five home visit team members locates a volunteer near the potential family's home to meet them to ensure the home is a good environment for a Golden. Potential fosters and adopters fill out a comprehensive foster or adoption application and it's important to verify that the information provided is correct or that nothing has changed since the application was submitted. On rare occasions, these visits are done via Zoom; however, it is always preferred to meet the family in person, but in urgent situations or in remote areas, using technology may be the best option.

The home visit volunteer will have a template containing the information about the home and the family to review during their visit. This information is sent back to the foster or placement team and if all is well, the foster or adoption process can proceed.

As simple as this sounds, it requires a great deal of organization. Home visits are usually completed within a couple of days of the request, so it is important that the volunteers are on top of their emails and have a system in place to keep track of all of the requested visits, as well as for sending information back to the appropriate team.

You may remember the August 2025 issue of The Guardian, where we introduced you to the transportation team, that situations happen, such as the rescue of 25 Golden Retrievers from Manitoba whereby the team needed to coordinate and move quickly to find fosters or forever families for these Golden Retrievers.

Fortunately, Golden Rescue volunteers are always ready to step up! No matter the challenge, the team is dedicated to getting Golden Retrievers into safe, loving fosters or forever families.

As one volunteer put it "the difficult we can do immediately; the impossible will take a little longer". Few things are ever impossible with our volunteers when it comes to caring for our Golden Retrievers!

LEVI #3232

MEET &amp; GREET

Copper #4402

Copper has been an amazing addition to our family. From the first day he arrived, he settled right into our daily routine, forging special relationships with each of us. He is the quintessential Golden with his playful and loving spirit. The first year that he was here, he was known in the neighbourhood as 'Copper the Hopper' because he got so excited to say hello to everyone that all four legs left the ground. As a mature 3-year-old, he still displays this behaviour from time-to-time when he steals winter hats off unsuspecting heads. He is quite the character and we love him to bits. Copper is an amazing adventure buddy, joining us on hikes and drives. He LOVES to swim and entertains onlookers with his underwater retrieving skills. He loves to collect sticks on his walks and we have uncovered a whole collection of them in our backyard.

Pam & Bill

MEET &amp; GREET

Enrique #3118

Enrique is doing great. It's hard to believe that he has been with us for over five years and that he's around 13 years old. He has come such a long way since the time we picked him up at the airport in Toronto after his flight from Mexico City. We had excellent support from GR for his training and he went on to do agility and obedience and was first in his class. He is such a loveable and sweet little guy. His favourite things are being cuddled, going for walks, playing with his toys, visiting with his dog friends, and going anywhere in the car. He spends a lot of time at the beach but doesn't like water at all. He is so happy and healthy and such a character. He brings so much joy and light to our lives every single day. We are so happy to provide him with the home and life he deserves after being on the streets for about eight years in Mexico. We love him so much.
