LOUISE PENNY to the RESCUE

Louise Penny, along with her beloved Goldens, Muggins and Charlie #4834, are here to talk about the IMPORTANCE OF FUNDRAISING.

Golden Rescue has helped over 5,000 Goldens get the second chance they need. The average cost of putting one Golden through the program is around $2,000. There are two truths about rescue ~ it never sleeps and rescue is expensive. We rely entirely on fundraising efforts, adoption fees, and donations. Here's how you can help. The single best way is to become a monthly donor. Monthly donations help us predict our guaranteed annual income; however, any and all donations are gratefully accepted. Simply go to our website for all donating options or call the hotline and someone will be happy to help. Thank you for coming to our rescue!

MEET & GREET LEYLA #4373

After being adopted and returned and having moved through several foster families, I expected that Leyla would have some difficulty settling in. That was not the case. From day one, she seemed to know that she was home. And she felt like home to me as well...she truly belonged here. I live and run our business from my farm, so Leyla has a lot of work to do. She is a greeter, makes sure the horses are fed and taken care of, and works in the office. She loves her car rides when we have to get supplies or drive to the mailbox. She loves hanging out in the barn with my retired mare, Majestosa. Leyla lays down in Majestosa's stall and they munch on hay together. Majestosa doesn't mind, even if she is technically stealing her food. In the evenings, she enjoys yoga with Ben, my cat, and in the summer, she enjoys lounging by the pool with me. Even though she ran hot when she arrived (hot enough to have a cooling pad sent with her), she now loves sleeping in front of the fireplace. It's been nearly two years since my sister and I drove to meet her. She hopped into our car and we've never looked back.

Kimberly

Ask Goldie

Dear Goldie: Before being surrendered, my sister and I lived in a kennel and did 'our jobs' on concrete. It was the only world we knew. Our foster parents were puzzled when we wouldn't pee or poo in the yard, thinking we might prefer to do it on a walk. But going for a walk on a leash was new for us too. After three walks the first day, we both still had not done anything. On the fourth walk, my sister suddenly poo-ed right on the sidewalk. Later that night, I woke up dad to go pee, but when outside I still couldn't see any concrete until dad walked me across a parking lot. I was so happy...at last I'd found my spot. With time, we have both adjusted and now do do-dos on grass (and it doesn't splash up...teehee). Sheldon

Dear Sheldon: You raise a good point. Goldens are like snowflakes with none of us the same. I'm pleased you succeeded in communicating your needs and learned behaviour. Now you have broadened your options, making life easier for both you and your new family. We're all creatures of habit. Just an FYI, some pet parents can't bring themselves to pee in public washrooms (ha-ha).

Dear Goldie: What does it mean when a Golden rolls on his or her back? "To roll or not to roll, that is the question" ~ you get the drift? Don't need to get all Shakespear on ya. For me, I love to roll on my back to get a belly rub. Rolland

Dear Rolland: Good for you Rolland. You're obviously feeling relaxed and not threatened. However, not all Goldens feel this about the belly rub. Some Goldens will never feel confident in that position. Others may roll on their back to show embarrassment or acceptance of another's dominance. Sometimes when a pet parent says "Who did that?" their Golden will immediately roll over on their back to accept blame, as in "Busted...it was me who barfed on the carpet!".

Dear Goldie: I had never been in a car before I was adopted at six years old. When I got into the car, I started yawning a lot, big time. Mom and dad just thought I was tired and relaxed but the next thing I did was barf. They didn't put two and two together until it became a pattern of car sickness. Lucky for me, I only go in the car once a year for my vet visit. How come other Goldens seem to enjoy the car ride? They look so happy, smiling with their heads out the window. Star

Dear Star: Early learning is key. You unfortunately missed your critical learning period at a young age. You are a calm but car sick passenger.

Other Goldens can be frightened to the point of full-blown panic when faced with the dreaded car ride. For some, a crate may be the answer, allowing your Golden to feel calmer in a contained space. Early exposure with short trips and a treat can make it a positive experience. In people terms, it's the difference between people who love rollercoasters and those who fear them.

MEET & GREET SOL #4078

Sol has become a bona fide member of our family and while stray hair and dirt in every crevice of the house can drive one insane, we wouldn't change a thing. She is our first family dog and we always hoped to be able to have her off leash though until very recently we didn't think this would be possible. We found a group of lovely dogs who gather nightly in the green space in our neighborhood and with practice, we were able to let her run off leash. Sol has kept us on our toes and demonstrated the tenacity she no doubt learned in her first 9 months on the streets of Cairo climbing under and over various fence iterations in our backyard (#mustgetthatbunnynextdoor). One of her nicknames is Houdini. We've installed a newer and taller fence, preventing any further attempts to use her old skills. When we got Sol, we already had two cats, Rex and Merlin. They weren't too impressed, despite Sol's enthusiastic efforts to befriend them; however, Merlin has finally come around.

Golden Rescue Visits Toronto Metropolitan University (TMU)

Golden Rescue volunteers, along with their beloved furbabies, recently visited students from the Faculty of Engineering at Toronto Metropolitan University to offer some much-needed emotional support before midterm exams. The success of this visit highlighted the positive impact of canine comfort and we're hoping to have more of these events at other post-secondary institutions in the future.

Held on the afternoon of October 23rd, the event was filled with wagging tails, smiling faces, and plenty of cuddles. Our ambassadors soaked up the affection and attention, while students found comfort and stress relief in their gentle company. It was a true win-win for everyone involved.

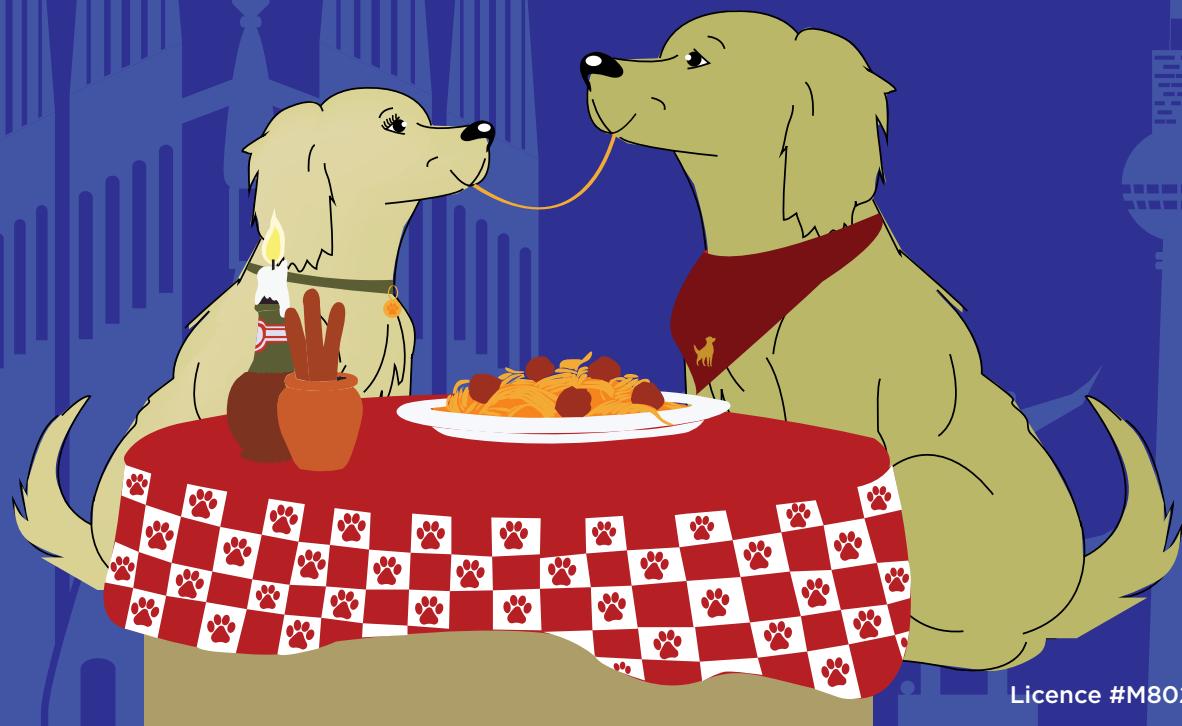

A huge thank you to all the Golden Rescue volunteers who brought cheer and support to the students at TMU. Sharing your time was greatly appreciated by the students, the organizers, and everyone at Golden Rescue. Thank you to our amazing Golden Rescue ambassadors:

MEET & GREET DANTE #2425

It's hard to put into words; however, Dante has been an amazing, lovely, easy boy since the day we adopted him over 8 years ago. He is loved so very much by our family. He has never chewed or stolen anything in the house. He can be left alone and patiently waits for us to return. He loves being outside and does not seem to mind if it is snowy or raining. In the middle of winter, he will happily roll in the snow every chance he gets. Dante loves walking on the trail close to our house where he goes multiple times a day. He is very gentle and has helped children who are scared of dogs overcome their fear. His favourite pastime is swimming...he is a true Golden in that way. He also loves his food, with possibly cheese being his favourite but we have never seen him turn up his nose at anything except food with medication hidden in it ~ he cannot be fooled. He prefers his routine and is very calm in his own environment. We are very grateful to Golden Rescue for choosing us to be his family.

GOLDEN ANGEL

Meet an outstanding volunteer ~ a golden angel with a golden heart!

Marilyn Burgess

Marilyn and her husband rescued their first Golden from the SPCA. The experience was very rewarding and they fell in love with the breed. In time, Marilyn decided to look for further rescue activities and, during her online research, discovered Golden Rescue. Impressed with the website and overall professionalism, she decided to see how she could help. After their beloved Golden passed away, they felt that fostering might be the best way to fill the void in their life while helping other Goldens in need. Fortunately for GR, Marilyn has been an active superstar volunteer ever since. In under two years, she and her husband have fostered five Goldens and Marilyn continues to help in a number of other areas, including the care team. This is a labour of love for Marilyn as she loves hearing all the success stories GR adopters have experienced. If that wasn't enough Marilyn also joined the Wishbone Lottery team and is now spearheading the DIY fundraising team. Marilyn loves being involved with Golden Rescue. This is what she says; "Since getting involved with Golden Rescue, I know I have made a difference in the lives of Goldens looking for a second chance and I have made new friends along the way. I cannot say enough about this amazing organization." And we can't say enough about you, Marilyn. Your passion, professionalism, and compassion make you a joy to work with. Thank you for coming to our rescue!

MEET & GREET RORY #4187

Rory has settled so well into life with us and Zola, our Bernadoodle, and life in Canada. We were a little nervous as first time 'rescue pawrents'; however, we have had such an amazing experience with him. He really just wanted to be loved and to have a family to call his own. The changes we have seen in him since we adopted him in September 2022 are remarkable and we are very proud of how far he has come both physically and personality wise. Rory is a homebody. He loves his home and his backyard. He has a standing monthly spaw date with Zola ~ he loves his grooming appointments with people fussing over him. He has achieved a healthy weight and maintains it. He gets lots of exercise on walks and tearing around the backyard with Zola. He is a very typical retriever ~ loves his food, steals gloves, hats, and socks, and has vain attempts to catch squirrels and chipmunks. He is such a handsome heartbreaker, we get many compliments about him. We are pleased to report he's also recently added handsome male model and local celebrity to his resume. A photo of him was featured on the cover of the local brewery dog calendar with all proceeds going to their chosen charity. Rory was happy to help pay it forward.

MEET & GREET NORA #4367

Woof...woof. Oh boy, I was so excited when I heard there was an email from Golden Rescue just for me. My tail hasn't stopped wagging since. Life here is great. My humans are always around, which means plenty of belly rubs, ear scratches, and snacks (though I could always use more). The little ones sometimes put funny things on me, but I'm a good girl, so I sit still even if I'd rather be chasing rabbits outside. Speaking of outside, I love to run especially when I get to go to Lake Superior. Oh, the freedom...the water...the smells. Nothing beats a day of splashing around and rolling in the sand. And car rides? Don't even get me started. I could ride forever with my nose out the window. I was adopted when I was five months old, and since then, I've made so many new friends. I also have a very important job: neighborhood watchdog. Every day, I make sure to bark at all the dogs walking past my window. They need to know that I see them and take my duties seriously. Oh, and don't worry...I'm in good paws when it comes to my health. I have the most amazing and caring vet who always makes sure I'm feeling my best. Anyway, I should probably go check the window again. You never know when a squirrel might appear. Thanks for writing to me. If you ever need a buddy for a swim, hike or a long car ride, I'm your girl. Tail wags and happy barks!

MEET & GREET

Calvin #4155

About Calvin...has very furry paws and a goofy, playful heart. Calvin shares his life with us and his Golden siblings ~ 7-year-old Deacon and 4-year-old Clementine who is also a rescue. Calvin has food guarding issues with other dogs but never with humans. We mitigate this by keeping them separated for food and treats. We believe that love and understanding can overcome anything. Calvin is a highly energetic, playful 3-year-old boy who came to us at the age of 10 months. He was eager to learn and trained easily. He's willing to do anything especially if treats are involved. He loves to run in the snow in winter and play in his puppy pool in summer, snapping and leaping at water from the garden hose. Calvin is loyal. He chose me (Kia) as his person from day one and follows me around everywhere. He is protective, putting himself solidly between me and any people he doesn't know and watches them intently. But he's friendly and can be bribed with treats. Calvin is truly my heart-dog, my little man, my puppy love.

MEET & GREET

Bentley #3455

Bentley is doing wonderfully well. It's hard to believe it's been more than four years since he joined our family. We are now both retired so he's loving having us home all the time, but we've also become empty nesters with both our girls away at university and I think he misses them. This is a funny side story, but I've been working on a movie script in my retirement and Bentley is in it. It's a heartwarming Christmas movie of a community that rallies together to put on a nativity pageant. When the family barn, where the pageant is traditionally held, burns down, they decide to hold it at a local brewery and hilarity ensues. Bentley is the family dog and during the dress rehearsal, Bentley eats all the pumpkin squares off the table in the brewery. This is a true-to-life story. When we got Bentley, we fed him some pumpkin on his food to help with his digestive system as he acclimatized to Canada and on Christmas eve, he ate half my homemade pumpkin pie from the counter. He never ceases to make us laugh.

BEHIND-THE-SCENES AT GOLDEN RESCUE SOCIAL MEDIA

Golden Retrievers are known as natural fetchers, as their name implies. Sometimes, though, their most important 'fetch' is thousands of views and a forever family. Through Golden Rescue's social media team, the opportunity to learn about rescue and find a family is easier than ever. Gone are the days of finding a pup to adopt in the Pennsylsaver (did we just age ourselves?) ~ now we have a plethora of online platforms to spread the word, and Golden Rescue has dedicated, creative volunteers to manage the ever-growing world of social media.

Social media (or digital media) is so much more than a quick Facebook post of a cute Golden. Our volunteers create content related to outreach, fundraising, awareness, and adoptions using graphics, videos, and words to advertise what Golden Rescue does and how people can get involved. There are multiple platforms to manage ~ Facebook, Instagram, Threads, YouTube, Pinterest...and whichever new digital media source appears next. There are also 'eblasts' or blast emails to our mailing list about Goldens ready for adoption, events, volunteer opportunities or fundraising.

Once content is posted or emailed, there are questions and comments to follow up on, and in a fast-paced digital world, time is of the essence. Our volunteers are passionate about what they do and work with other areas of Golden Rescue (such as the foster and placement teams) to share the most up-to-date and accurate information about our Goldens ready for adoption and our initiative is to respond to posts within two hours.

In addition to a passion for the cause, volunteers on the social media Team must be organized and strong communicators. Having a plan and a schedule with lots of reminders helps, but so is being adaptable when new information is available, such as when a new Golden is ready for adoption. The team works in rotation to ensure that posts and responses are timely. Of course, volunteers having a basic grasp of the platforms we use is helpful; however, we have a robust training program for the team to ensure consistency and that answers to common questions are readily available to the volunteers.

As online resources have grown, so has our team! From 3 volunteers 10 years ago to over 30 today, each volunteer takes responsibility for education, awareness, and finding forever families for Goldens very seriously. It is important to keep content fresh and to be able to reach different demographics to grow Golden Rescue's loyal following. Fortunately, this dedication pays off when a beautiful Golden finds their forever family and the adopter experiences the joy of having a new, furry family member.

HO HO HO HOLDING ALL ADOPTIONS

From December 15th until the New Year, we temporarily stop the adoption process. We would like you to understand why...and here are the reasons.

Firstly, it is very important for a newly adopted Golden to join his/her forever family when things are at their most 'normal'. The Christmas holidays are anything but 'normal' in most households ~ it's a hectic time of year with more of everything ~ more travelling, more time away from home shopping and visiting, more guests, more food...and this can be very stressful for your new Golden family member.

Secondly, our dedicated volunteers are also busy with their families and need a well-deserved break during the holidays.

And lastly and most importantly, of the millions of homeless pets in North America, many were surrendered or abandoned as a result of an 'impulse' buy, so we support 'no pet buying (or adopting)' at Christmas.

In the meantime, all the Goldens in our program are happily spending Christmas with their wonderful foster families...so all are safe and sound.

MEET & GREET

RUSTY #3075

Rusty is great. After two successful hip surgeries the first year we had him, he was better than ever and you would never know that there had been anything wrong with his hips ~ especially when he 'supermans' off the deck to chase rabbits and squirrels. He is sweet and gentle and everybody absolutely loves him. He loves to play and be outside. We have a big backyard which abuts onto two school fields and he sits at the back fence and lets all the kids come and pat him. He's better known in the neighbourhood than we are. Our next-door neighbours now have a Golden and the two are becoming best buds. See Rusty again on the next page with his Christmas pickle...he loves to play and snuggle with them.

MEET & GREET

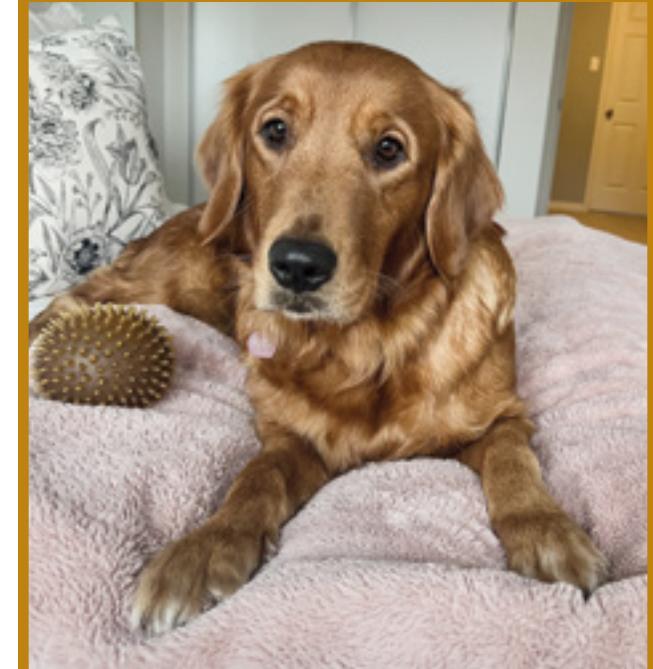

RINGO #3213

We picked up Ringo at Toronto Pearson Airport on October 26, 2019 when he wasn't even quite a year old. He's almost 7 now. We fell in love instantly. He was a shy, scared little boy; however, by the time we arrived home, he was comfortable enough to eat dinner and jump up on the couch and lay on our lap. Ringo has the kindest, most gentle soul we've ever experienced. He has eyes that can see into your heart. He loves to play and has an endless choice of toys. He loves his walks, belly rubs, rolling in the snow, and spa days. We love this beautiful boy endlessly and are so grateful to Golden Rescue for bringing him into our lives.

MEET & GREET

ROSIE #5019

Rosie has been a wonderful addition to our family and we feel so lucky to have her! She has been loving sniff walks, her new friend Bella the Bernese, sweet potato treats, and most of all...cuddling. We absolutely adore her and we are so excited for all of the memories we get to make with her! Thank you so much for giving us our furbaby.
